

Kinky sex leads to man's death by strangulation in Nagpur hotel

Soumitra Bose | TNN

Nagpur: A couple's bid to experiment with sex proved costly as the man died in a hotel at Kharkhedha in Nagpur district on Thursday. According to police, the 28-year-old man was tied by his neck to a window grille, his hands behind his body and legs to a chair with different ropes.

The family of the deceased has alleged that he was murdered by his girlfriend who is in her 20s. However, the police have registered it as an accidental death. As per the initial forensic report, the cause of death is 'constriction of neck'. The man was married to another woman a year back and his wife had delivered a boy 22 days ago. "This must have upset his girlfriend," said a kin. The woman was in the bathroom when she heard the sound of the chair breaking. By the time she tried to cut the man free, he was motionless. She tried to flee but was stopped by the hotel owner.

The couple had brought nylon ropes and blades with them. Police said the man, a fire engineer, was in a relationship with the woman, who is a business management graduate, for the last few years. They reportedly had a court marriage too.

MBA topper, pharma pupil run over by train

2 ITI Grads Too Killed On Tracks Unused For 2 Years

Ishita.Mishra@timesgroup.com

Dehradun: An MBA post-graduate at the top of his class, a pharmacy student and two ITI graduates — these four young and promising lives were cut short by a train doing a trial run on tracks that had been unused for over two years.

For years, Shashipal had put together every penny from the dhaba he ran to put his son through business school. Mayur, 23, took that responsibility seriously. He got his MBA degree from the Gurukul Kangri University last year. Also from his university was Vishal, 24, a BPharm student, whose father works at the Nagar Nigam. Praveen, 22, whose father is a farmer, and Happy, 22, whose father is a contractual worker, had just graduated from ITI.

They'd meet at the abandoned railway tracks in Jamalpur Kalan often, talking about government job openings and preparations for those. On Thursday, around 6.30pm, while they were engaged in discussions about their plans for the future, the train sped through the tracks, crushing them. "The train didn't sound a horn, there are no walls around the tracks. Two big villages are right next to it, but there was nothing to indicate a train would suddenly run," said Vineet Chauhan, corporator of Sitapur village, where all four were from.

On Friday, angry locals blocked the tracks for three hours. Three separate investigations have been launched in response — police have lodged an FIR on the basis of a complaint by the families, the Haridwar DM has ordered a magisterial probe which has to submit its report in 15 days, and the railways has ordered its own inquiry. But it offered a defence at the same time.

"Train tracks are property of the railways. We don't need anyone's permission or consent to do a trial run," said Moradabad divisional commercial manager Gaurav Dixit. "The trial was a planned one. Every security protocol was followed. The chief commissioner for railway safety, Sailesh Pathak, was on board the train. It was running at 120kmph and our trial was successful."

The government has announced a ₹2-lakh compensation for the families. "Four lives were lost. ₹2 lakh won't solve anything. We want a fair inquiry and punishment for the guilty," said Sachin Chauhan, Vishal's brother-in-law. Because for the families, it has been an irreparable loss.

"Who will bring my son back? I am on the verge of retirement. He was trying so hard to land a job just to help me out," said Pramod, Happy's father. "Even if they were doing a trial, they could have scheduled it for midnight or early morning. Why after sunset?"

Man, 22, tries to kill girl, 11, in UP after raping and brutalising her

Kanwardeep.Singh@timesgroup.com

Bareilly: A 22-year-old man raped and brutalised a little girl, nearly half his age, at a crop field and later tried to strangle her to death in order to conceal his identity in the Tilhar area of Uttar Pradesh's Shahjahanpur on Thursday night. He fled when locals closed in on him.

The traumatised girl, who is a daughter of a marginal farmer and studies at a government primary school, was fortunately saved by the locals. The 11-year-old went missing after going out to play at 5pm on Thursday. When she didn't return for a while, her worried parents and other locals started looking for her. They heard loud cries of pain and went straight to a standing wheat field and found the accused, identified as one Ramesh Kumar, "trying to kill her".

The girl was lying without clothes and had sustained multiple injuries with bite marks on her face. Police were immediately informed and the minor was taken to hospital for treatment. "We rushed to the spot and started probing the case. The girl was sent to the community health centre for treatment at night, the Tilhar SHO said.

Budaun horror: Main accused found hiding near the crime spot, arrested

Kanwardeep.Singh@timesgroup.com

Bareilly: The main accused in the alleged gang rape and murder of an anganwadi worker, 50, was on Thursday night found hiding just a few metres away from the crime spot in the Budaun village. Several teams of Special Task Force (STF), which were looking for Satyanarayan for the last three days, finally managed to arrest him after a tip-off by locals. He was then interrogated for over 14 hours.

Sources in Budaun police told TOI that Satyanarayan claimed to have taken the injured woman to two private hospitals, but they refused to admit her. "He then returned and dumped her outside her home," a source said. However, there was no official confirmation on this. The two co-accused have been arrested. Later, Satyanarayan was produced before a court which sent him to jail.

Local police said that it would seek his remand after verifying all the information given by him. Two women, aged 40 and 45 years, have also been detained for questioning. But the police didn't tell the reason and the nature of the questioning. They are said to be the disciples of the priest. Senior superintendent of police (SSP) of Badaun, Sankalp Sharma, told TOI, "We have summoned a few more suspects for questioning, which is part of the investigation. There are certain facts that cannot be disclosed at this moment. Action is likely against those who provided food and support to him." When asked if the accused was arrested with the support of a few villagers, the SSP said, "Satyanarayan was hiding in a crop field while our teams were searching for him in the residential areas and they tipped us about him. After he was arrested, few villagers even tried to assault Satyanarayan but our team took him out of the village safely."

Decide mercy pleas of ex-Punjab CM killer before Jan 26: SC to govt

Dhananjay.Mahapatra@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: The Supreme Court told the Centre on Friday to decide before January 26 the multiple mercy petitions filed by individuals and organisations on behalf of Balwant Singh Rajoana, convicted for the assassination of then Punjab chief minister Beant Singh in 1995.

"Give him a decision before January 26. It is a good day (Republic Day) and if possible, pass orders before that day," a bench of Chief Justice S A Bobde and Justices A S Bopanna and V Ramasubramanian said. The bench told additional solicitor general K M Natraj that this was the last adjournment for the Centre to take a decision. Arguing from Goa through video conferencing, senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi told the bench that Rajoana had already spent 25 years behind bars, of which 13 were as a death row prisoner.

"This itself is enough punishment, in line with the SC judgment in Shatrughan Chauhan case in 2014," he said. As many as 14 petitions seeking mercy for Rajoana were filed in 2012 before the President, including those by then Punjab CM Parkash Singh Badal, Delhi Sikh Gurdwara Management Committee and Shiromani Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee.
