Post-IPO, more LIC stake sale unlikely for a year

PRAKSANTA SAHU
New Delhi, April 24

AFTER DILUTING 3.5-5% stake in the upcoming initial public offer (IPO) of the insurance giant, LIC, the Centre will not dilute any further stake in the insurer for at least one year to gauge the performance of the insurer and its potential.

Improvement in margins that the market is expecting, further growth in its value will therefore be a positive official signal.

In the insurance industry, the real value of companies is embedded value (EV). Thereafter, market valuation is driven by expectations of business growth. The Centre will sell a minimum 3.5% stake in LIC, but the size of the IPO could be raised to 5% as proposed in the draft offering prospectus if sufficient demand is shown by anchor investors by Tuesday. The Centre could fetch between ₹21,000 to ₹30,000 crore from the issue, much lower than estimated earlier. EV and weak demand for foreign institutional investors, the Centre has decided to a much lower valuation of ₹6 trillion for LIC, though the late-riser insurer was seen as

The number of accounts has risen by 69.4 million in the past two years to 451.6 million

NET DEPOSITS in the Jan Dhan accounts hit a peak of ₹1.68 trillion as of April 13, having witnessed almost steady growth over the past four months despite the Omicron onslaught in January.

This lends some credence to the view that farmers may have gained from the income-modified prices in recent months and concerns in some quarters about the persistence of wide-spread rural distress were after the third Covid wave may have been exaggerated.

Jan Dhan accounts had a net balance of ₹1.68 trillion as of April 13, higher than that of ₹1.45 trillion on April 14, 2021 han Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojana in the past two years, too, has saved the poor households a tidy sum. Moreover, some amount of precautionary savings by the households for any Covid-related exigencies can't be ruled out. However, despite accounting for these factors, the net balance still remains higher than expected.
